

Moral Education homework - 27th February

This week we have been discussing how our actions may affect the feelings of others. We discussed how being kind leads to others being kind.

Complete the grid below in your pink homework book:

Family Kindness	School Kindness
Set the table for dinner	Pick up garbage at recess

Next, think of some actions (scenarios) which may lead to somebody feeling in a positive and negative way.

You can use your own experiences if you wish or make them up.
